

QUIZMAX® 4.0

Highlights of the Enhancements

With version 4.0, QUIZMAX receives significant improvements and enhancements in didactics as well as in functionality. The improvement or extension comprises four areas – here are the highlights:

Mission

A tournament is always associated with a mission and, over several levels, with a goal. The mission is shown graphically, and a participant always sees his progress. Didactic background: The motivation to learn is positively influenced when participants have a goal in view and can follow their own progress closely. The milestones with the associated awards also have an amplifying effect.

Infobox

Additional information can be added to each question. This additional text can be retrieved via an 'Info button' after answering the question. Participants thus have immediate access to relevant background information. On the one hand, this can increase the learning effect, and, on the other hand, the motivation is further enhanced.

Academy/Online Library

As before, the academy serves as a 'online library at your fingertips' and participants have direct access to information and other resources.

From now on, the entries can be marked with a 'Like' and it is also clear how many times a post has been viewed/downloaded. This is not only interesting for the participant but also for the administrator to assess the attractiveness of the content and, if necessary, to adjust.

Feedback and statistics

The player sees not only his own current progress in the game or level of knowledge, including a ranking, but also the current performance in each of the categories. Also, after answering a question, you will see how it was answered on average by the other participants.

The direct feedback in the form of a relevant statistic has a positive effect on the learning process as well as on the motivation to learn.
